

Speaker: Brunhilde Monika Maria Blömeke

- 1988: Graduation (Dipl. Biologist), University Hamburg, Germany.
- 1992: Graduation (PhD), University Hamburg, Germany.
- 1994 – 1996: Staff Fellow, Lab. of Human Carcinogenesis, National Cancer Institute, NIH, Bethesda, USA.
- 1995: Methods in Epidemiology, Johns Hopkins University, School of Public Health and Hygiene, Baltimore, USA.
- 1997 – 2003: Head of Molecular Epidemiology Unit, Dermatology & Allergology, RWTH Aachen, Germany.
- 2001: Habilitation and Venia legendi in Molecular Toxicology, Medical Faculty RWTH Aachen, Germany.
- Since 2003: Professor and Chair of the Department of Environmental Toxicology, University Trier, Germany.
- 2009 – 2011: Deputy Dean of the faculty (Environmental Sciences).
- 2012 – 2014: Dean of the faculty.
- Since 2016: Member of the German Committee for the determination of occupational exposure limits ('MAK-Commission'), German Research Foundation (DFG).
- Since 2020: Leading the allergy secretariat of the German MAK-Commission.